

To Generate Multiple Perspectives

- “Let’s look at this issue and start with a different premise. For example....”
- “What would this issue look like if we began from a different starting point?”
- “Try to imagine you have no experience with this matter. Where would your instinct tell you to start?”
- “Try to think of the most unlikely ways of understanding this matter—the weirder the better. What would they be?”
- “Who or what perspective is missing and what would it look like if that perspective was included?”
- “What radically different examples can you give of this issue? In what different directions could these examples take our analysis?”
- “What questions or issues have been raised for us today? What remains unresolved or contentious about this issue?”
